How to get to French Wine Adventures Headquarters: Chateau Feely

French Wine Adventures headquarters at Chateau Feely, 326 Route du Pressoir, 24240 Saussignac is about 90 km east of Bordeaux (international airport), or four hours from Paris by train. There are frequent high-speed trains (TGV) from Montparnasse station in Paris to Bordeaux and there is at least one TGV direct from Charles de Gaulle airport to Bordeaux per day. Some TGV Bordeaux trains stop in Libourne (one stop before Bordeaux) which saves you time, otherwise, continue on to Bordeaux. We are 15 mins west of Bergerac airport with flights from many UK airports. If you are from the UK or flying via the UK this may be the best option.

To meet us in Saussignac at our HQ

If you are coming to French Wine Adventures HQ at Chateau Feely from Bordeaux (St. Jean station) or Libourne station, take a local TER train to Gardonne. If you are travelling by plane, you can ask your travel agent to book your flight with final destination Bordeaux airport or Bergerac airport. The round-trip air ticket between Paris and Bordeaux usually costs less than a round trip train ticket when booked as part of a larger ticket. From Bordeaux airport take the jet bus (shuttle bus) or the new tram to Gare St. Jean then take the local train to Gardonne. If you are staying with us in Saussignac or coming to us for a day tour, we will meet you at Gardonne station.

To meet us in St Emilion the start of our 2 day and 5 day tours

If we are meeting in St Emilion then make getting off the TGV at Libourne a priority as it saves you a connection. Libourne station to a hotel in St Emilion is about 15 minutes by taxi.

Coming from Bordeaux airport follow directions above to take the TER in the direction of Bergerac/ Sarlat but get off at St Emilion (not Gardonne). It is 1.5km to the village from the station (not recommended if you have heavy or many bags). Ask your hotel to book you a taxi if you are overnighiting as there may not be taxis in the taxi rank at Libourne particularly in the evening and there are no taxis at St Emilion station. If you arrive the morning of the start of our tour let us know your arrival and we will meet you at the station.
